

As the global issues of climate change and peak oil become increasingly urgent, we must rethink the ways we live on this planet and satisfy our basic needs, including food, shelter, transportation and energy. Redesigning these basic needs will create a host of new jobs, entrepreneurial opportunities, and exciting careers!

Join Global Exchange and the Solar Living Institute and many green career professionals for an interactive day of practical information that will help you find a rewarding career, and make a living while making a difference!

The green career conference includes expert panels on opportunities in the following sectors of the green economy.

- Green and Natural Building
- Renewable Energy
- Alternative Transportation
- Sustainable Agriculture
- Environmental Advocacy
